The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Jensen et al '121. No distinction is seen between the product and process recited in applicant's claims, and that disclosed in Paragraghs [0039] and [0040] of Jensen et al '121. The heat and pressure in the process of Jensen et al '121 would be maintained "for a time sufficient to form a fused product". In any event, it would be prima facie obvious to carry out the heating step in the process of Jensen et al '121 under pressure to increase the rate of fusion.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jensen et al '121. Jensen et al '121is relied upon as discussed hereinbefore. It would be prima facie obvious to mix 1%/wt of titanium to the sodium aluminum hydride in the process of Jensen et al '121, since it would be within the skill of one ordinary skill in the art to determine a suitable or optimum amount of titanium to mix with the hydride.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claims 11-13, it is indefinite as to which "product" is intended. In claim 4, "a 1%/wt of titanium" is indefinite. The word "a" should be deleted to avoid this rejection. In claim 5, "selected from the group consisting of metals comprising..." is improper Markush terminology. The phrase "metals comprising" should be deleted to avoid this rejection. In claim 10, "substantially about" is indefinite. The word "substantially" should be deleted to avoid this rejection.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Jensen et al '935. No distinction is seen between the doped sodium aluminum hydride disclosed by Jensen et al '935, and that recited in claims 11-13.

Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Gross et al '909. No distinction is seen between the doped sodium aluminum hydride disclosed by Gross et al '909, and thatb recited in claims 11-13.
